

be notified that your order is in. If this language, this word in here which prohibited anything...any use and would restrict it only would delete the word "advertising", then you would not get that service. So the committee felt that word "advertising" should be deleted.

PRESIDENT: Mr. Clerk, you have an amendment to the amendment you say?

CLERK: Mr. President, Senator Wesely would move to amend the committee amendments. Senator, this is the amendment you had filed with me last year, I believe. (Wesely amendment appears on page 1428 of the Journal for the first session.)

PRESIDENT: Senator Wesely, please.

SENATOR WESELY: Thank you. Mr. President and members, the amendment that I am offering to the committee amendments are found on page 1428 of the Journal. They do three basic things. They delete language on page 4 that says, "without obtaining permission of recipient" and replaces it with the word "automatically". There is another change dealing with the telephone directory. Right now we have a prohibition on these devices from calling anything other than those listed in the telephone directory. We delete that. The reason we do that is I'd love to ban these things, primarily, but we can't seem to get that done. Next to that, we'd sure like them not to call unlisted numbers. But the way we've done it the bill only allows for calling of programmed numbers, so that doesn't need to come from random, sequential dialing. So the directory prohibitions aren't necessary any longer. So we take that out of it and we won't get the problem of unlisted numbers called because of the other changes in the bill. And then that is essentially what we changed. So it is mostly technical and it came about as we worked with those that had formerly opposed the bill. So I would ask support for the amendments to the committee amendments.

PRESIDENT: Senator Hefner, please. Any other discussion on the amendment to the amendment? Senator Lamb, please.

SENATOR LAMB: Well, Mr. President, I guess I'm not aware of this amendment to the amendment. I guess I would suggest that until we have time to look this over I would rather just go with the amendment as the committee has it. Senator Wesely, could
